Dr. Hess Hog Special

60 Hogs in Self Feed Test Show Remarkable Gains

Sixty Pigs on our Research Farm, all same age and size, were fed to market weight—200 lbs. average. The pigs were not only alike in size and condition, but we fed them alike. All received a ration of all the ear corn they would eat, and a supplement consisting of 2 parts tankage, 1 part oil meal and 1 part alfalfa meal. The pigs were divided into three groups. There were two pens of 10 pigs in each group.

Feed required per 100 lbs. gain—$12 lbs.

Observation—It is clearly demonstrated by these feeding trials, using two different methods of self feeding that Dr. Hess Hog Special increases gains and thus shortens the fattening period and reduces cost of production.

The hogs getting Hog Special (Groups 2 and 3) reached market weight from 8 to 12 days earlier and saved from 50 to 59 lbs. of feed on period and reduces cost of production.

In the above test the hogs were fed under ordinary farm conditions. Dr. Hess Hog Special will produce the same results for you.

SELF FEEDING—Dr. Hess Hog Special can be used in most plans for self feeding hogs. However, it must be remembered that the Hog Special is a concentrated product and cannot be fed in an undiluted form as ordinary minerals.

When feeding tankage separately the Hog Special may be added to and fed with the tankage. When feeding the trinity mixture used in this test, the Hog Special can be mixed with the mixture. Or regardless of ration fed, Dr. Hess Hog Special can be diluted with 2 parts wheat middlings and hogs given free access.

Group 1 (Control)—These 20 shoats received the above ration only.

Reached 200 lbs. average in 115 days.

Feed required per 100-lb. gain—371 lbs.

Group 2—These 20 shoats received same feed and care as Group 1, and in addition were self-fed a mixture of 2 parts wheat middlings and 1 part Dr. Hess Hog Special.

Reached 200 lbs. average in 103 days.

Feed required per 100 lb. gain—321 lbs.

Group 3—These 20 shoats received the same feed and care as Group 1 except that 10 lbs. of Hog Special was added to each 10-lb. of the tankage, oil meal, and alfalfa meal supplement.

Reached 200 lbs. average in 107 days.

INTERESTING VISIT TO EXPERIMENTAL STATION

After the Board of Trade Luncheon on February 5th, a large number of the business men of Lacombe and farmers from the district, visited the Experimental Station, to see the live stock in their winter quarters. Although many of the business men frequently visit the Station during the summer time, very few of them go out during the winter time, although at this time of the year there is a lot of very interesting experimental work being carried on, and the hour and a half spent at the farm was found most interesting.

On arrival at the Station, a number of the horses were first shown. Considerable breeding work has been carried on at the Experimental Station with horses, both light and heavy. The low set, deep bodied Clydesdale stallion was the first animal to be brought out. This 5-year-old stallion was as a 2-year-old, Reserve Junior Champion in Chicago and is of outstanding type and quality. All most every man enjoys seeing horses and the next exhibits were 3 good teams of purebred Clydesdales and one team of Shire-Clydesdale crosses. These horses weigh from 1700 pounds to a little over a ton for the largest gelding. It was quite a change from these massive horses to a purebred Shire-Clydesdale filly foal which were next brought out. These were followed by two Thoroughbred foals sired by the famous Thoroughbred stallion "Squire Wiggin".

Following the horses, the visitors went through the dairy and beef barns where they saw long rows of purebred Holstein and Aberdeen-Angus cattle of very uniform type and as one experienced cattleman remarked, "without a cull of any kind in the lot." The visitors were shown the chart on which the milk given by each cow at each milking is recorded. Another chart showed the weights of feed of different kinds fed to each animal and as one visitor remarked, "everything seems to be done with the same accuracy with which a hospital nurse makes her charts. It was stated that while the average production of the cows in Alberta is 4000 pounds, the average production of the cows in the Experimental Station herd during the past year was 15,144 pounds of milk, or considerably more than three times as much as the average. Passing through the main stables, the visitors were shown the two Aberdeen-Angus herd bulls, both of which are of outstanding merit. Two Holstein bulls were in evidence but as their tempers seem rather uncertain they were not brought out before the crowd.

The next department visited was the swine. There are at present 67 brood sows at the Station, most of which will produce young pigs during February, March and April. In the large pigery there are about 1000 brood sows, most of them with from 6 to 10 little pigs, of the three breeds, Berkshire, Tamworth and Yorkshire. Apparently there were as many Yorkshire sows as the other two combined. Also there were 9 herd boars in the pens and yards which were specially constructed during the past summer for housing these animals.

Across the lane from the main pigery there is a row of 35 small cabins which are banked with straw. In these cabins are hatched 11 of these cabins and yards contained 7 pigs each, which Mr. Wilson stated were all being fed differently in connection with various feeding experiments. In another 6 or 7 of these small cabins there were sows with their young pigs were sows recently been brought out of the main pigery and although there is a stove and everything very comfortable in the main pigery, these little pigs seem to be quite comfortable in their new quarters where only the small cabin with an abundance of clean dry straw was provided for keeping them warm.

The poultry was the next department visited. Here in a long row of houses something over 600, 1930 hatched pullets are being tested individually for their ability as layers. Every pullet has a number band on her leg and as only trap nests are provided, each egg laid is credited to the pullet which is found in the nest. To some of the old timers it was quite interesting to find that the original long house on what was once the Flewelling farm is now a large poultry house containing about 200 beautiful White Wyandotte pullets. It was stated that this was one of the warmest and most satisfactory poultry houses on the station.

About an hour and a half was consumed in visiting the horses, cattle, swine and poultry. Mr. Reed, the Superintendent, expressed regret that the time would not permit to take the visitors to see the incubators where the chickens are hatched and the brooders where they are reared. Also to see where each egg is weighed and the weight credited to the pullet which laid the egg. Also, time on this occasion did not permit of seeing the bees in their winter quarters, most of the chickens are being kept in the open in large winter cages. Another interesting department which may be seen at some later time, is the Grain Cleaning Plant where several thousand bushels of seed grain are every spring cleaned for the farmers of the district.

The weather recording instruments are another feature of interest which it was not possible to visit on this occasion. It is hoped that at some not distant date, even a larger number of the business men of the town and farmers of the district, may again visit the Station and see the livestock and the other many interesting branches of experimental work which is being carried on. Those who did not on this occasion visit the Farm, are assured that they will find the trip interesting and profitable.

VICTOR A. TATTON of

Indian Head, Sask., writes

this interesting letter about

Stop-Loss Pockets. He says:

Indian Head, Sask.
April 21st, 1930
The Great Western Cattle Company, Edmonton, Alberta.
Dear Sirs:
Since buying the first pair of your G.W.G. Overalls two years ago, I figure I have saved nearly $20.00 in loss of money and time. I used to buy a new wrench or pair of pliers every few weeks only to lose them again out of the old style pockets.
Going to town one day in the car I had to get out to fix it and to my surprise my pliers and wrench were gone. I had to walk back a mile to a neighbor and borrow a pair and lost nearly an hour on the road. Later at times I have put money in my pockets only to find when I wanted it that it had been lost out. I have dropped my good good watch out of the old pockets and broke crystals and also springs in the stem and one time broke one of the jewels. After I would lose the tool I would have to come in out of the fire or where I was working and hunt around for more and probably wouldn't find any after losing hours of time. My neighbor said, "Why don't you get Overalls like I have, G.W.G." The next time I went to town I certainly bought a pair and have not lost a single pair of pliers or a tool since or broke my watch or lost any time.
I would never be without G.W.G. Stop-Loss Pockets again. I think they would be cheap at double the price as they wear so much longer than other overalls and are so much roomier.
I will always recommend your G.W.G. Stop-Loss Pocket Overalls.
Yours very truly,
VICTOR A. TATTON.

Board of Trade Luncheon

A large number of guests were present at the Board of Trade luncheon held at the Adelphi Hotel on Thursday, at which Mr. Mooney, Managing Director of the World's Grain Exhibition at Regina, in 1932, was the speaker. Many impressions gained during his tour of European countries of the farming methods and conditions existing there, were passed along to his hearers. Much interest is being taken in the Regina Exhibition all over the world and approximately sixty countries are planning to show grain.

Striking an optimistic note, Mr. Mooney declared his belief that Canada would hold a very favorable position in the world wheat markets, as the high priced lands in Italy and other countries, and Russia with its lack of modern machinery, would not be able to produce wheat at as low a price as can be done here.

Mr. Mooney described the new exhibition building which is to be erected in Regina, for which contract was let the first of the week, and which is 600 feet long, 125 feet wide, with two wings each 300 feet long. First prize for wheat will be $2500.00 and fifty prizes are being given in each class. Billy Douglas of Lacombe, who won first prize in the judging competition at the Provincial fair, is applying to represent Alberta at the Regina Exhibition. E. L. Gray, Field Crop Commissioner for Alberta, told the guests of the efforts being made by the Province to assist the farmers in getting their grain ready for this Exhibition.

In Provincial Legislature

By T. B. Windsor

The pomp and glitter of the opening ceremonies on Capitol Hill are over. The salutes of cannon have died away to silence, but the hum of movement of business has replaced them in the legislative chamber.

Mr. Speaker Johnston occupies his chair daily and keeps a firm hand on the helm of the precedents and practices of parliamentary usage.

The reading of the speech from the throne by His Honor Lieutenant Governor Egbert, last Thursday, left a distinct atmosphere of disappointment in legislative circles. The program of the government at first seemed so incomplete, so indefinite, that the members—those on the left of Mr. Speaker at all events—were taken back for a brief spell. There was so little to quarrel over, and to use a vulgarism, to chew the rag about.

One prominent member of the house said to the writer on the day of opening, "This is going to be a very tame session." With the general line of the government's program there is little to quarrel over, it is true, but every matter broached is of importance. One wonders in what particulars the opposition is going to find food for division and criticism.

But, did ever an opposition, be it Conservative, or Liberal, Labor or Independent, or even U.F.A., face a government in power without finding plenty to condemn and correct in that government's policy? Certainly not. Oppositions are there to oppose.

And so, on Monday, George Webster, the new Liberal leader in the provincial house, turned his battery of criticism, and trained every gun with deadly aim, on the government of Premier J. E. Brownlee.

Mr. Webster is no mean adversary in debate and he knows how to search out the weak spots in the armor of his foe. He began on the government's defensive campaign by condemning its policy with regard to the proposed plans for bettering the irrigation projects in the south of the province.

It is not the purpose of this article to strengthen or weaken Mr. Webster's cause, or to in any way attempt to bolster up or detract from his attack on the government. The facts as they appear to the writer are all it is aimed to give. Mr. Webster charged into the fray as it seemed with a general and sweeping display of figures, all assembled and correctly summed up so as to prove the "inefficiency and expensiveness" of the U.F.A. policy in the Northern Irrigation district.

The Liberal leader claimed that the U.F.A. government had shown a conspicuous lack of "capacity and an absence of courage, or both." Well, it must be a pretty bad government that lacks courage, capacity, economy and efficiency. But there are two sides to that opinion. Mr. Webster declares that the province of Alberta is rushing into big losses in the irrigation area in the south, and he promises the undying opposition of the Liberals to any measure that is likely to increase that loss.

Perhaps one would be forgiven for slyly pointing to a little amusement in Mr. Webster's attack that springs from the memory of an outsider to politics.

The doctored Liberal leader roundly denounced the naming of an advisory commission to probe the irrigation problem, as a method of evading ministerial responsibility. That was exactly the complaint of the Conservatives against the Liberals in the federal parliament during the last administration of the Mackenzie King government and the preceding one. It was charged that whenever a problem arose that threatened present troublesome debates, a commission was appointed to "track it up."

Well, that's politics and Mr. Webster would do something very much like it probably if he was in power. The promised reorganization of the cabinet was another point stressed by Mr. Webster in his attack on the government. He called loudly upon Premier Brownlee to give his official family a real shake-up.

The debate on the speech from the throne will likely occupy a large share of the sittings in the house this week. D. M. Duggan, the Conservative leader is at present firing his guns in a telling attack following Mr. Webster. He will be followed by Fred J. White, leader of the Labor party. Other speakers set down to join in the argument include W. G. Richardson, (U.F.A. Rimbey), Ben Adams, (U.F.A. Innisfail), J. Russell Love, (U.F.A. Wainwright), Donald Macleod, (U.F.A. Stoney Plain). From this list of speakers, even if others are not added, it is clear that a lengthy and lively debate is in store in the legislature.

It is early in the session to predict what will happen, but with economic conditions in the province what they are, and the crying demands for improvements in various spheres so insistent, it is safe to predict that the session is not going to be so dull as it might appear at first.

D. M. Duggan, Conservative chief-in-chief in his onslaught on the government declared that his party stood for cutting of civil servants' salaries and the reduction of the seasonal indemnities as strict economy requirements in the provincial administration.

"Practical economies," he said, "will involve a reduction in the scale of wages to government employees from 6 to 20 per cent, with the exception of all employees receiving $100 per month or less. Members of this legislature should be prepared to accept the maximum reduction, thereby setting the example to the public."

He said that this might be a distasteful proposal but it was warranted by existing conditions.

Thus the legislative ball rolls round and the people's representatives are discussing the problems confronting the province of Alberta, with spirit and appropriate eloquence.

The Nova Scotia fish catch for December last was 12,161,400 lbs., having a landed value of $182,111, as compared with a catch of 10,489,700 lbs. with a value of $219,552, for the corresponding month of the previous year.

Total amount of capital invested in Canada from other countries as at the end of 1929 was $6,375,533,000, an increase of $229,000,000 as compared with the total at the end of 1928. Of this outside investment, 61 per cent is said to be from the United States; 35 per cent British; and 4 per cent from other countries.

The yield of potatoes in Canada in 1929 totaled $1,232,333 bushels, from 574,500 acres, an average yield of about 142 bushels per acre. In 1928 the yield was $4,550,000 bushels from 543,727 acres, or an average yield of 122 bushels per acre. Potatoes are grown successfully in commercial quantities in every province of the Dominion.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has announced placing of orders with the Algoma Steel Company of Sault Ste Marie for 30,000 tons of 120 lb steel rail for spring delivery. The "Big 100" will amount to approximately $1,500,000. This unusually heavy rail will be laid on 150 miles of the company's main line in the Mountain Division of British Columbia.

Prescott, Ont., Canada's newest national port is rapidly approaching completion. The $15,000,000 terminal which the Canadian Government is building there as a turning point for the Upper Great Lakes grain boats when they come down through the Welland Canal in the spring of this year will be ready for traffic in advance.

Canoing history was made at Quebec recently when the seven Lavoie brothers piloted their craft over the ice-dotted waters of the St. Lawrence between Quebec and Lévis in the remarkable time of 3 minutes, 43 seconds and took first place in the canoe race which was one of the features of the Quebec Winter sports season with headquarters at the Chateau Frontenac.

"Melody Mike", Canadian Pacific Railway radio feature given every Monday night, is not only attracting wide popularity in Canada; the United States also like it and the railway's radio department recently had a letter from a school teacher in Angola, New York state, asking for 55 copies of Melody Mike's Favorite Irish songs, for distribution among her pupils.

In 1929 the Dominion's gold production was valued at $43,000,000, an increase of $2,000,000 over 1928. The capital investment in the mining industry in Canada at the end of 1929, the last year for which complete statistics are as yet available, amounted to $850,000,000. In that year the industry gave the employment of 50,000 men paid out in salaries and wages $125,000,000.

The establishment of a $75,000 marine leg for handling grain at the Ocean Terminal is one part of the programme for the development of the Port of Halifax recommended to the Federal Government recently by the Halifax Board of Harbor Commissioners. This addition to the opinion of the chairman of the Commission, would attract more shippers and vessels to the port, and would save in one year an amount equal to the cost of the equipment.

Some Simple Menus for The After-School Meal

BY EDWINA NOLAN
Director of Home Service, General Electric Refrigeration Department

IN the days of our childhood we all have heard the admonition, oft repeated: "No eating between meals!"

But times have changed. Today we have carefully supervised diets which include body-building foods for growing, healthy youngsters, who in school and play rapidly use up their energy and bodily substances. And we have new and scientific ideas about meals, foods and their values.

Growing children of school age, who play hard outdoors until dusk, should not go from noon until six or seven o'clock without food. Often, if an adult, he overeats or eats too fast at the evening meal or he may be unduly fatigued and be too tired to eat the things his body requires. Hence, the after-school meal.

It doesn't need to be much, as the following suggested week's schedule indicates:

Monday—Milk, sandwich of graham bread and peanut butter, orange.

Tuesday—Milk and rice, fruit juice, oatmeal cookie.

Wednesday—Milk, sandwich of graham bread, raw carrot (ground) and raisins.

Thursday—Fruit juice, sandwich of graham bread with cottage cheese, soft ginger cookie.

Friday—Milk, sandwich of graham bread with finely cut raw cabbage, apple.

Saturday—Milk, sandwich of graham bread and sliced raw tomato, soft ginger cookie.

Sunday—Banana (ripe), oatmeal cookie.

Saturday and Sunday are as important in this schedule as school days, if meals are to be regular. These four o'clock bites must be simple, both in the kind of food and in the preparation as the appetite for the evening meal must not be dulled. For that reason, very sweet foods, such as desserts, are not permitted on the after-school menu.

Proper Crop Rotation

Editor: The Western Globe.

Dear Sir:

With your permission I will write an article on crop rotation for the readers of your valuable paper.

The time has come, when every farmer must adopt some kind of crop rotation if he is going to make his farm pay. The weed problem is getting more serious in the province every year, and it is almost impossible to control weeds without crop rotation. The old way of summer-fallowing part of the farm every year will never be a success as soil drifting is getting very bad in many parts of Alberta, where it has not been known before. We have had very bad winds this last year or two, and we have no guarantee that this will not continue. The only reason the soil is this system is known as a five year crop rotation. The farm is divided into five different fields; every field is separated by fencing. This is necessary on account of pasturing the livestock, but all the fencing does not have to be done at once. One fence can be put up each year. Begin on one side of the farm, on the land that has been cropped the longest and most weedy. Disc this part as early as possible in the spring, if it has not been done in the fall. This is to give the weed seeds on top a chance to germinate. This is very important. If the weed seeds were plowed down without first getting sprouted, they are sure to cause trouble again when plowed up next time. Leave this land until you have the rest of the farm seeded, harrow it once or twice if you have time, as this will help to sprout the weed seeds more quickly. The latter part of May or the first week in June, plow this land as quickly as possible, harrow, float or pack at once. This will germinate more seeds. Sow this land with a good six-rowed barley, O.L.C. No. 21 is early and hard to beat. At the same time mix four pound of timothy and four pounds of sweet clover, the yellow flowering is the best, as it does not grow as tall as the white flowering and will seed itself if not pastured to close in the fall. Use a grass seeder attachment on seeder.

The stock may not like it at first, but once accustomed to it will eat it in preference for any other grass. Harvest your barley in the fall in the ordinary way. This should give you a good crop, even if the land is old and partly worn out. Of course this depends on the plowing, as this is the most important thing on the farm operation. If you are lucky enough to have an old pasture, you are in to crop rotation at once, but if none of the land is seeded down before, it will take another year to get hay and pasture in this way. Next Spring following seed in the part next to it. This is best on account of the fencing. Follow this up with the rest of the farm until it has been farmed in this way. To make it more clear, I will take another year to get hay and pasture in this way. First year hay, in the fall pasture; Second year pasture in July or as soon as the hay crop has been removed from the second part turn all live stock on this field and break the first field up at once; work it in the ordinary way the same as breaking; be sure that no weeds go to seed at any time during the summer and fall. If there is now or Canada thistle in this field here is the place to destroy them, as you have two years to do it in. They are very easy found in the hay field and pasture. If the patches are small the chemicals are worth trying, as they work better satisfactory on many farms, but if the patches are very large, this is too expensive on account of the fact that they must be sprayed several times to be sure of a kill, and even then, they will some times appear again. Entirely black cultivation is the surest way I will recommend to destroy them, and this is the method I would advise. Plow the patches as deep as possible as soon as the hay crop has been removed; the first year cultivate and plow several times until freeze-up; be sure that no plants appear during the entire summer and fall; if possible give these patches a deep plowing right before freeze-up if you see any plants or not, as by doing this you should almost be sure of a kill the first year. If not, watch the patches closely next spring, and if a few stray plants should appear, proceed in the same way the following Spring. Keep a watch on them all summer. If any appear, cultivate before you start to break this up as this gives you two years to get your thistle patches destroyed, and if done in this way, they will be no more. This year: wheat, or oats. Fourth year: oats or barley. Fifth year: seed to barley, grass and clover, and you have completed your crop rotation, and your farm has been improved nearly one hundred per cent.

I will just mention here that old rotten straw stack bottoms should have been scattered on this land when it is mowed, and this can be done almost any time during the year. This system of crop rotation can be worked successfully on one, two or three or more quarters of land. The only thing is to be sure to divide all cultivated land into five equal parts. It is best to divide them in long parcels, if possible, as it is more easy worked. To utilize all hay and pasture, this may mean a considerable increase in your live stock. Do not expect this will make you rich at once as it will mean considerable outlay in cost, but you do not have to do this all at once. When once established, you will have something to sell throughout the entire year. You will improve your farm, and you are on a straight road to success.

If I have not made this clear, write me personally, or through this paper, and I will be glad to give you any assistance possible.

Yours very truly,
Hans P. Hansen,
Bentley, Alberta

Belated Credit to Britain

London, Feb. 11.—Coming in the midst of the controversy raging in Britain around the question whether ex-Premier Baldwin made an improper payment to the United States, publication of a speech by General Dawes, United States ambassador in London, made an American Legion post here, has electrified the country.

General Dawes said that when the United States had sent two million soldiers to Europe she left them without munitions, without horses, with few rifles or artillery and not a single airplane.

"We were let down badly from home," he asserted. "Of every thirteen pounds of food eaten by British soldiers, Britain and America, principally Britain, supplied eight pounds. In every instance our requests to Britain for supplies for assistance were gladly given, when it meant a sacrifice by her own men."

We had even to ask for anesthetics because American soldiers were undergoing operations without them.

"Whenever it was humanly possible Britain supplied them without any question as to whether she did not need them more herself. It was not until I realized the magnificent greatness of the British government and the glorious British army. My sincere admiration continued to grow and it will never cease."

"What marvelous effort, what supreme sacrifice, and all with a smile. Some small political attempt to belittle the deeds of the armies of Britain and France has been made, but the fact was we failed to supply practically everything we needed ourselves, except magnificent soldiers."

"Men who served, as I did, realize that had it not been for the great role played by Britain, we would never have been able, as an ally, to have achieved final and glorious victory."

British newspapers pay tribute to the United States great help in the struggle, but say that to exaggerate the part played by the American armies is not truly to honor them.

This gives Lacombe the championship of the League and they are in possession of the cup. BUSINESS ANNIVERSARY
January 27th was our business anniversary, having become established in The Watchmaking and Jewelry business on that date in the year 1888 just Forty Three Years ago. By some strange coincidence this date of Jan. 27th happened to be the Kaiser's birthday, but he is understood, we stoutly and heartily disclaim any and all guilt in the connection.

For the last Thirty-one of those Forty Three Years we have made our home in Lacombe.

Lacombe the beautiful was love at first sight.

Our heart was thrilled and captivated at sight of this lovely gift of God. The hub and centre of the finest district in the fairest province in this Grand Dominion of Canada. Forty-Three years ago—yes, those were the days when of necessity a great deal of the watchmakers work was done by hand and that with tools not so improved as now. A lot of our work then was on old English and Swiss watches and they were not yet standardized and parts interchangeable and easily procurable as they are to a great extent today; hence we were forced to undertake the making of many parts now quite easily obtained. We are still repairing watches of all kinds and with superior tools, so if you have had trouble with your watch we will cheerfully put it in perfect order for you should you so desire.

We have successfully filled positions in positively the largest shops in Canada. If you are a new comer and don't know Hotson—ask your neighbors.

"Sargon has certainly been a blessing to me and I think all young mothers, especially, should know about it," declared Mrs. Doris Ayre, 9562 106th Ave., Edmonton. "I'd been in nervous, rundown condition ever since my baby was born three years ago. I was subject to constipation, headaches and bilious spells, and my circulation was so bad that sometimes I'd have a numb feeling all over."

"Three bottles of Sargon and Sargon Pills have overcome these troubles and built up my whole constitution with new strength and vitality. I'm not so nervous any more and I don't know when I've enjoyed such sound refreshing sleep. It's just made me a different person and I can't praise these two wonderful medicines enough."

LAVALON THE WHITE HELL OF FITZ PALUE

A miracle of photography filmed 12000 feet in the icy loneliness of Fitz Palu, one of the most inaccessible peaks of the Alps. Five months were spent in the filming of this wonderful picture. How Ernest Veldt, one of the greatest snow acrobats, an awe-inspiring rescue of three human beings from death, high above the clouds on a frozen, storm-swept mountain peak forms the climax of this great picture. Vocal dramatization by Graham McNamee.

This picture will show Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week.

Coming: "Cohens and Kelleys in Scotland", Feb. 19, 20 and 21st.
"Maybe It's Love", Feb. 20th, 27th and 28th.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY DIRECTORS MEET

There was a well attended meeting of the Directors of the Lacombe Agricultural Society, held in the Secretary's office on Saturday afternoon last, when several matters in connection with the 1931 Fair were discussed. It was the opinion of those in attendance that the prizes in the Horse, Cattle, Hog and Sheep Divisions should be raised, but the question was left over for final settlement until after the meeting of the Fairs Association in Edmonton this week.

It was decided that Grains and Grasses, Vegetables, Poultry and Children's work be eliminated from the prize list. The School Pairs take care of Mines and Children's exhibits, and the government will not assist the Agricultural Society in addition. It was decided as the Fair comes too early for a good showing of Grain and Grasses, Vegetables, Poultry, etc., that a Poultry Show, which will also take care of the above exhibits should be held later in the fall.

It was also decided to remove half the box stalls in the Horse barns, and much space for horses will be gained by this move. A number of the directors volunteered their services to make this change.

The matter of attractions was left to the committee attending the meeting of the Association at Edmonton.

Mildred Greenfield, the owner of a valuable farm is being tricked out of it by Mr. Ringling, a dyed-in-the wool crook, and his son. The Deacon saves her from falling into the trap, but is unable to save himself from the wiles of a romantic old maid. The comedy furnished by Leslie (a patient medicine peddler) the Deacon and the old maid is immense. Come on February 27th to see the Deacon Slips. In Fairview Church.

Hospital is Flourishing

Reports for 1930 were given at the annual meeting of the Hospital Board held in the office of Fraser and MacDonald on Friday afternoon. A. M. Campbell was appointed chairman of the meeting. Statistical and financial reports were read by the Secretary, A. D. MacDonald. Number of patients treated for the year were 486, or a total of 3468 hospital days. In 1929 there were 3846 hospital days. The cost per patient per day was $3.45 as against $3.74 the previous year. Total earnings amount to $12,774.55 and expenditures to $12,002.19. The bank balance at the beginning of 1930 was $4897.50 and at the end of the year $4522.16. Outstanding accounts contracted this year amount to $2140.60. A Victor X-ray machine was purchased during the year and every effort is made to keep the hospital equipment up-to-date.

In view of the prevailing depression, the Board considers the financial condition of the hospital to be in good shape.

Election of officers resulted in the three retiring directors: Mrs. E. L. Miesner, Mrs. John Gilmour and Mrs. W. N. Morrison being unanimously re-elected for the ensuing three years.

A resolution was passed by the Board expressing their appreciation of the services of the Matron, Miss E. Osborne, and the staff, in maintaining such a high standard of efficiency.

HUGE BREAKWATERS BEING CONSTRUCTED AT GULL LAKE

That the Government of Alberta intends their new wharf at Gull Lake to be a permanent structure is evidenced by the work they are doing there now. It will be remembered that last Spring the incoming ice did a large amount of damage to the pier, which necessitated considerable repairing. This year the T-head has been almost doubled in size, and the front and both side protected by steel plates sloping down to the water. Immediately behind the T-head on either side are huge piers constructed of timbers and filled with rock. These piers are also covered on the front and two sides with steel plates which also slope down toward the water. The sloping steel buttresses will tend to break the incoming ice, while the side piers will fend it off from coming against the wharf at an angle. This construction is going on now and a large camp of workers is established at Aspen beach. The piers are first built and loaded with rock on the ice, then the ice is cut away and the piers sunk in this way. To get an idea of the work being done, you should go out to the lake and see the work now being done.

BOAT COMPANY WILL LOCATE AT GULL LAKE THIS YEAR

This year promises to be one of the best in history at Gull Lake. A large boat-building company located at Calgary have shown their confidence in the possibilities at Gull Lake by planning a large boat-building plant there, and establishing a boat for hire business. This is something that Gull Lake needs badly, and we feel sure that this company's confidence in the lake will not be misplaced. It is the intention of this company to commence the building of several model boats for demonstration purposes immediately. There will be a boat-house constructed near the government wharf and boats for hire by the hour, day, week, month or season will be there in abundance. Canoes, motor boats, etc., will be built right at the lake, so anyone who wishes to buy a boat should wait until this company opens up. It is their intention also to install a large excursion boat which will make regular trips to different points on the lake.

W.L. NOTES

At their regular meeting held at Mrs. J. Craig's on Saturday afternoon, the W.L. completed arrangements to hold a card party during the afternoon and evening of Thursday, Feb. 12th. Mrs. R. Adams, delegate to the U.F.W.A. Convention gave a most interesting account of the Convention proceedings. Mr. D. Aikhead, School Principal, explained the High School Correspondence course in use by the Department of Education of Manitoba and British Columbia. There are 1763 vocations from which a child may choose his life work and yet we have only one High School course, declared the Principal, and asserted that this is a problem which will have to be worked out in order to successfully educate the increasing number of children attending our schools. Under the Government correspondence system in Manitoba a student may choose certain subjects from 374 courses offered, which he may study in his spare time during the high school term, and thus be equipped to aid himself at the completion of the term. Refreshments were served and a social hour spent at the close of the meeting.

LACOMBE ENTERS SECOND LAP OF PROVINCIAL PLAY-OFF

A large number of Lacombe fans journeyed to Ponoka Saturday night last to witness the second game in the Provincial Play-off. It sure was a thrilling encounter. There was quite a little rough stuff, but the perpetrators did not get away with it very far. Although the score was 2 to 1 in Lacombe's favor, many golden opportunities to score were missed by both sides. Both goalies were handicapped to some extent by the absence from their ranks of Lee Cook and Earl Calkins who were both injured in the previous game, but the boys who substituted for them were up to form and turned in great games. The Ponoka team were out win, as it was their last and only chance to get into the play-off, so they put all their energy into the fray. The nearest goal of the game was scored by Fraser for Lacombe in an unassisted rush. He divided the defences, fooled the goalie with a feint pass and slapped in the disc with perfect destiny—the goalkeeper did not have a chance to stop this shot. Charlie Graham scored the last counter for Lacombe. There were three major penalties handed out for fighting, Ponoka getting two of them. There were about 150 people from Lacombe and Bentley at the game. Lacombe will play against Innisfail next in the Play-off. Watch for announcements.

To help out to the best of our ability, we have decided to lower the prices on all needed merchandise, and if you are fitting out for spring, come in and see our new stock of furnishings for the worker. Overalls, gloves, sox, shoes, rubber goods, smocks; sweaters in fact everything you need.
